HIGH HOPES FOR PEACE

FAIR OFFICIALS PREPARING FOR OPENING DAY TOMORROW

Hope Maintained Irish Muddle Will Be Settled

Coming Week Is Expected To Bring Out Peace Conference Decision Or A Return To Hostilities In Ireland

INTERNED PRISONERS REBELL

London, England, September 26.—Within the week the question of whether there will be an Irish Peace Conference or a return to former conditions of hostilities will have been decided.

Hope is still strong that the conference will be held, in spite of the somewhat dampening effect of a week-end speech by Winston Churchill, who declared that the government "will not yield an inch on the supreme issue of Ireland's leading allegiance to the King."

Speech Arouses Interest

"We have reached the end of our tether," he declared. Our offer goes to the utmost limits possible. If it is rejected we have nothing else to give."

The speech aroused greatest attention and was viewed in the light of a semi-official statement inasmuch as Churchill had just come from the Gairloch discussion.

It is reported in London that Lloyd George has been sending out hints that a general election would be held in the event of a breakdown of negotiations in order to bring his colleagues around to his own policy on the Irish question.

Trouble At Entirement Camp
Cork, Sept. 26.—A serious situation has arisen in the Spilke Island, Ireland, where several hundred members of the Irish Republican army are held. As a result of prisoners' protest against food served.

The prisoners refused to carry out orders where upon the military over them retaliated by removing their bed clothing and punishing them with rifles and bayonets. 28 stabbings are reported and severe beatings are said to have been administered to some of the men.

Several prisoners are reported to have escaped.

New York Heiress Dies Victim Of Chum's Gun

Miss Hanan, Victim
Of Shooting Fray,
Passes Away In Hospital Sunday

New York, Sept. 26.—(By United News)—Miss Mildred Hanan, granddaughter of a wealthy shoe manufacturer died early Sunday from bullet wounds inflicted by Mrs. Grace Lawes, her chum.

The mystery that ended in her death following the suicide of Mrs. Lawes remains unexplained. As Miss Hanan lay in the Long Island College Hospital at Brooklyn hovering near the crisis she never passed, she was too weak to make a statement.

Before she lapsed into unconsciousness her lips moved in a whisper and she exonerated John J. Borland, New York importer of all blame in the tragedy. He had been with

THE WEATHERMAN SAYS:

"I wonder if that sun is going to hold out until tomorrow, so I can go to the Fair. Hope so."

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD IS CHALLENGER

Assails Right Of Rail
Labor Board To Make
Labor Decision

LATEST MOVE

Chicago, Sept. 26.—(By United News)—The Pennsylvania Railroad challenges the right of the United States Rail Labor Board to "invade the domain of the management in a statement to be presented to the Board Monday.

The board's action on collective bargaining is especially the refusal of the board to grant the railroads its decision in the case of shop crafts be set aside.

A vote of the board ruled that the Pennsylvania Railroad would have to deal with organizations as such. The board has demanded the right to deal with groups of their employees not affiliated with unions.

The decision of the board was construed as a sharp blow at the open shop movement.

SACRIFICE TO BE KEYNOTE OF THE JOB CONFERENCE

Government Will Endeavor To Show Capital
And Labor The Benefit To Be Accrued From Sacrifice Now

Washington, Sept. 26.—(By United News)—Both capital and labor must be willing to make sacrifices if emergency relief is to be effected by Secretary Hoover's Unemployment congress and the foundation laid for permanent economic betterment.

It is in this spirit that government officials are approaching the difficult task of beginning Monday. The conference is fraught with obstacles but its main objectives will be to show employers as well as employees the benefits to be accrued from sacrifices now.

At the same time the facts are such that the conference will have no power to enforce its recommendations. Only the spirit of support of the public will be capable of putting them into effect.

Curious Currency.

On Rennell Island, the least visited in the Pacific, the only currency consists of the teeth of living foxes: the island is surrounded by walls of coral limestone over 300 feet high.

WELL! THEY STICK TO THEIR TRADE

Atlantic City, N. J., September 26.—According to the Association of Nation Wholesale Druggists assembled here Sunday for its 47th annual convention, thousands of former saloon keepers have opened up drug stores, hired registered pharmacists to sell the stock of proprietary medicines and toilet articles, while booze is sold by the boss.

In many cases it is declared drug stores have been fitted up at a cost of thousands of dollars something like the old time saloon. The Association plans to petition the prohibition directors to exercise additional supervision over the issuing of permits in order to save the medical liquor business from disrepute.

SENATE WILL STAGE THREE RING CIRCUS

House Recesses To See
Fun As Senate Takes Up Its Duties

Washington, D. C. Sept. 26. (By United News) The Senate this week stages a three ring circus—the Peace Treaty debate featuring Senator Borah, the Revenue Bill with special acts by Democrats, who oppose repeal of the excess profits tax—and the Beer Bill.

Meantime the House which is the original promoter of the Revenue and Beer Bill has made a gentlemen's agreement to hold a series of three day recesses which will permit its members to enjoy the senate rehearsals.

Mladin Case Tried Before Jury Of Only Eleven Men

DuBois Juror Forgot The Night Session And Lost His Seat On The Jury

A peculiar thing happened in the Mladin aggravated assault and battery case, which was tried in criminal court last Friday and Saturday. At the end of Friday's session, in order to complete the case Judge Bell decided to hold a night session of court and so announced when recess was taken at 6 o'clock. The jurors of course were requested to remain for the evening session but William Trezise, a miner of DuBois, and Juror No. 7, forgot all about the case while eating his supper and while the rest of the jurors returned to the court room at 7:30 o'clock, Trezise, in blissful forgetfulness, left for his home in DuBois on the 7:08 P. M. train. When court reconvened for the night session attempt was made by the tipstaff and court officers to round up the missing juror. After a ten minute wait it was decided by Attorney Case for the defense and District Attorney Arnold to go along with out Trezise and the trial was again resumed with only eleven jurors.

Go Ahead Without Him
The testimony was concluded and the attorneys made their pleas to the jury before the night session was ended Saturday morning. All that remained to complete the case was the charge of the Court. When court opened Saturday morning the missing juror occupied his seat in the jury box. As he had taken a part of the testimony and the pleas of the attorneys Trezise was of course disqualified and the official hook was used to yank him off the job.

Judge Bell thereupon completed his charge to the eleven men and they later returned a verdict in which they found both Mr. and Mrs. Mladin guilty of aggravated assault and battery with intent to kill.

The victim in this case was John Molar, who was stabbed in the back by Mrs. Mladin while he was attempting to separate her husband and another man who were fighting in front of the Mladin home at Boardman.

GRAMPIAN SHINER AUTOISTS HAVE FOUND GUILTY BY JURY HERE TROUBLE WITH HYDE CITY GANG

Proved Good Witness
For Himself But Failed
To Move Jury
DENIED 'STILLING

Joe Hahn, the alleged Grampian moonshiner who has been in jail since June 15th, last on a charge of illicit distilling and carrying concealed deadly weapons, was placed on trial before Judge Bell Saturday morning last. Hahn, with Clark Hepburn and John Ruane, all of Grampian, erected a still on the side of a hill in the mountains in the Curry Run country, about five miles from Grampian, early in the summer.

Sheriff Gorman and the State Police raided the place, capturing Ruane on his way home from the still, while Hepburn, who was Constable of Grampian, left the country. A few days following the raid Hahn was taken into custody at the home of a Penn township farmer.

Testimony Against Hahn
The testimony of Ruane, who entered a plea of guilty and served three months of a six month sentence before being paroled, showed that Hepburn ordered the still they used from a Barnesboro concern and that Hahn went to Mahaffey, where it had been shipped and transported.

Woodland Colored Man Is Accidentally Shot Sunday

William Harris Had Been Shooting At Rats---Forgot To Uncock The Gun

William Harris, a Woodland colored man, is a patient in the Clearfield Hospital suffering from a slight gun shot wound received Sunday afternoon accidentally.

It appears that Harris and his wife were out in their lot attempting to shoot some rats that had been infesting their chicken yard. Harris had been using the gun but after waiting some time for a rat to make his appearance he decided Sunday wasn't a very good day for rats and giving his wife the gun told her to take it into the house and put it away.

Mrs. Harris started down through the lot with the gun and when about half way to the house noticed that the hammer was up on it. She then returned with the gun to her husband for the purpose of having him let the hammer down. About the time this operation was being performed the gun was accidentally discharged, the bullet striking Harris in the left chest and running around underneath the skin came out the back.

Dr. Lever C. Stewart was summoned and had the man removed to the Clearfield hospital where his injury was given proper attention.

SNEAK THIEVES GET "DEER SLAYERS" PRIVATE ARSENAL

Rifle And Revolver Disappear
From Home Of Local Justice
Of The Peace John Bain

Sneak thieves entered the home of "Squire John M. Bain in Wilmersburg street, one day last week and purloined therefrom the dignity of "Squire's death-dealing deer rifle and a 45 calibre Colt's revolver which long had occupied a prominent place in the Bain private arsenal.

The lengthy justice is quite a deer hunter and wants that rifle returned before December 1st, and says the fellow who got away with it will have carrying the excess weight of Of course if Bain slays as many deer this season, as he didn't each of the past two or three seasons he can do as much execution with a club and making the excess weight of a rifle. But he wants his guns back anyhow.

Came Near Being "Speechless"
When first apprised of the visit of thieves to his home Bain was fearful that those "ice cream or speech making" pants of his had also been made the victims of the thieves' inspection of the family wardrobe found these very desirables occupying their accustomed place of honor and Bain remarked, in the language of Senator McQuown's Indiana county hero, "It bad, but it might have been worse."

OBITUARY

MRS. ANNA M. SHELTON
The funeral obsequies for Mrs. Anna M. Sheldon, who died in Binghamton, N. Y. on Tuesday evening, Sept. 20th, were conducted from the parsonage home 505 Sixth Street, Clearfield, Pa., on Saturday afternoon, September 24th, interment in Hillcrest Cemetery, at Clearfield, Pa.

The esteem and popularity in which Mrs. Sheldon was held, by her wide circle of friends and admirers drew to a last detail the deepest sympathy and highest regard, the eulogies of thousands who presented themselves heart and hand for service and respect, as was manifested in the continuous stream of tear eyed and grief-stricken humanity, which was constrained by ties of love and bonds of friendship to linger around the casket couch of this excellent woman.

The floral expressions were lovely beyond compare, which alone spoke in loud language the love abounding for the departed one.
The religious and ritual services were in charge of Rev. E. R. Alban of Clearfield United Brethren church Rev. Alban being assisted by Rev. Wend A. B. Wilson of Alliance, Ohio and O. M. Wilson of Johnstown, Pa. who are uncles of Mrs. Sheldon.
Anna was by nature, aesthetic, she loved the True, the Beautiful, and the Good, and the devotional services, as conducted by the above named thrice, gently depicted with consistent range the true and fact of immortality, the beauty and wisdom of the soul's abiding relation in its Redeemer, and the grandeur of a symmetrical, altruistic life of love and service, all of which were the happy endowment of the much-mourned and incomparably loved-departed one, and while our hearts are laved and lonely that she is gone. We "Cannot say,

And I will not say
That she is dead
She is just away.
With a cheery smile
And a wave of the hand
She has wandered in to unknown land
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be, since she lingered there,
And you—oh you, who the wildest yearn
For the old-time step and the glad return
Think of her facing on, as dear
In the love of There, as the love of—Here.
Think of her still as the same, I say
She is not dead—she is just away."

tember 22d, 1921, as the result of a fall several days previous, was born in Clearfield county, December 25, 1837, and was therefore in his 84th year. He lived all of his long life in Clearfield county where he followed lumbering and farming and enjoyed the respect and esteem of a wide circle of friends, who admired him for his industry and rugged honesty at all times.

He was united in marriage on Nov. 5, 1867 with Miss Veronica Fresh, of Cambria county and went to house-keeping in Cooper township. To this union six children were born of whom but two survive, viz: Mrs. John Swartzel, of Clearfield, and Mrs. Francis Schrote, of Philipsburg. His wife preceded him to the grave some thirty-two years ago.

About ten or twelve years ago Mr. Routh came with his family to Clearfield, where he had since resided.

He was a lifelong and consistent member of the Catholic church and his funeral will be held from St. Francis church at 9 o'clock this morning, with interment in Calvary cemetery.

No Topographical Formality.
With the exception of a few acres in the Cook inlet region, the topography of Chugach forest in Alaska is exceedingly rugged, the mountains often rising abruptly from the sea. On Resurrection Bay the towering peaks seem to reach into heaven. The timber line is usually at an elevation of about 2,000 feet; above this rise barren, glacial peaks, ranging from 3,000 to 5,000 feet in elevation.

MANY ENJOY CAMP PARTY

B. J. Crissman, the Reed Street blacksmith, entertained a company of about thirty of his former neighbors and friends at Curwensville at a most delightful party given at Goshen camp Saturday evening last in addition to the Curwensville people there were some sixty eight local people present. Crissman proved to be a real host and divided the honors with Chief "Bucky" Richards and his brother who put up the finest dinner ever served at Goshen, bar none. The party was decorous and highly enjoyable and Crissman's hospitality left nothing to be desired. The Curwensville contingent was made up of a bunch of exceptionally fine fellows:

"MARGIE" AT DRIGGS TUESDAY

"Margie," the pretty little sister of Irene, Mary and Sally has thoroughly won the hearts of American theatre goers through the wholesome charm of its sweet story and the fitting quality of its music. It is greeted every night by audiences limited only in size by the capacity of the playhouse and indications point to a continuance of the unprecedented prosperity.

"Margie" is infectious and affords entertainment of the type that the Tired Business Man finds so comforting. Leon Edwards has supplied a musical score with more than the usual allowance of song hits is it. The namesake songs "magic", has been among the world's best sellers in sheet music form and a likewise hit with the buyers of pianola and victrola records.

There is but one company playing "Margie" in America, headed by Elmer Coudy, whose fun is clean and wholesome, and it will have its first local presentation on the stage of the Driggs Theatre next Tuesday.

The success of this sunbeam of musical comedies has been so great it is necessary to make a restriction of not more than six seats to any one purchaser.

Children! Do You Like Ice Cream?

Cut This Out and Show It to Mother
CHILDREN! You all love ice cream. Here's a chance to show your mother and father that you should have ice cream as often as you would like to have it. Just tell them to read this.
Ice cream is the best food for growing children. One dish of ice cream is equal in nutriment to a meal. It contains the concentrated rich food values of cream.
But you should eat only Carbonated Ice Cream, the purest ice cream in the world.

The More You Eat of This Ice Cream the Better!

Carbonated Ice Cream is the invention of a noted scientist, Prof. W. P. Heath, who has discovered a way of manufacturing it without air. Ice cream manufacturers have been using all precautions to keep their ingredients pure—ALL BUT ONE, and that one is the air which is mixed into the ice cream by the paddles in freezing to keep it from getting as hard as ice.
Common air is never perfectly pure. Prof. Heath has found a way to substitute a sterile, germ-free atmosphere for the air, one that is a thousand times purer than air.

Mother Will Like It Best Because It Is Purest

This process of manufacturing a super-pure ice cream is called carbonating because the same atmosphere is used in making this ice cream that is used in making carbonated water. Mother will be glad to know these facts about our ice cream.
It makes an ice cream that is always super-pure and which tastes more delicious because carbonating brings out the flavor of the ice cream and increases its richness. When you order ice cream be sure it's carbonated. Your dealer can get it for you. Insist that he should have it.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

"By Skisney"

The following interesting relic of the long ago, recently came to light at the home of James O. Leonard in Girard township. It is a letter from Zenas Leonard, a pioneer Clearfield county boy, who crossed the western plains in the early days and afterwards had printed by the late D. W. Moore, of Clearfield, the story of his travels, which he styled "A Narrative by Zenas Leonard." The following letter was received by Thomas Leonard, father of James O., almost three score and ten years ago. It is interesting reading:

Sibley, October 25, 1852.
Mr. Thomas Leonard,
Dear Brother:—

It has been long since I heard from you or family. Today being quite rainy and dreary, my two little children boarding out at school, having only my servants at home for domestic company, it has caused me to reflect upon my native home, for which I write you for information on receipt of this to know in what manner and state you are and all my relatives and acquaintances are living. The marriages, deaths, the number of children they have, etc., etc. After the Spackman family, what has become of Jane, and upon the whole write as to matters and things generally.

My two children, Martha and Thomas, are well. Martha is going to school at the Lexington Female Institute, 3½ miles distant from here in Lafayette City, Mo. This is her second session at that place.

I have not been doing any business with the exception of settling up my unsettled affairs of my mercantile business since last May. I have sent this and last season each some $5,000 worth in machinery and wagons and teams of traffic and trade with the Indians of the country and emigrants passing to and from Oregon and California upon the overland route at a Fort called Laramie both of which expeditions from reports are doing well. It is 800 miles from here.

The health of this portion of the State has been quite fair this year, but I suppose not so good as that of your portion of the country, from the fact of the prevalence of chills and fevers which are notorious in these parts. By old settlers they are little noticed but by newcomers this season of the year it preys upon severely.

Our hemp and corn crops have been abundant, particularly corn. It is not uncommon to see fields of fifteen and twenty acres yielding from 90 to 110 bushels per acre, but the average per acre is estimated at 75 bushels.

The wheat crop failed but is selling usually as follows:

Corn per bu., 20 cents; wheat, 75 cents; oats, 20c to 25c; rye, 70c; hemp, per ton, $90; pork, 45c per lb.; beef, 3 1-2c; sheep, $1.00 per head; work cattle yoke, $30 to $75; horses, No. 1 from $50 to $150; mules, $75 to $125; milk cows, from $20 to $25; pork hogs, gross at 2 3-4 and 3 1-2 cents per lb.

The telegraph wires pass through my farm 1-4 miles from this place. Likewise the survey of the St. Louis and Pacific railroad, but at what time this road will be completed I cannot say; but there is no doubt of its completion from the fact of it being the great thoroughfare for emigrants passing to and from Oregon, and the great golden region, many of whom have returned by land this season in good health and spirits and in equally as quick time as those that set out by water across the Isthmus and at only a cost of $20 or $30, less their animals, which are worth their cost or more here.

I fitted out last season a number of wagons for California (last May) which have arrived there and remitted funds back for payment a month since. The travel is getting to be about nothing at the present day. They have started from here in June last and arroyo save there in August. I have no doubt but there are many young, enterprising, industrious men and of good habits that might do well by visiting that portion of the country.

I intend closing all my unsettled business as soon as possible, and no Prudential hindrance, visit you all once more. Give my best love and respect to Mary, to the children and particularly to my namesake Zenas Say to him to learn his book, which will enable him when arriving at my mature age to judge for himself. Except yourself.

Your brother affectionately,

ARBUCKLE TRIAL WILL RESUME AGAIN TODAY

NEW WITNESSES

San Francisco, Sept. 26.—(Roscoe "Tatty" Arbuckle Monday will face the third day of his preliminary hearing on the charge of murdering Virginia Rappe, Los Angeles movie actress, an unusual long time for a preliminary hearing to drag out in a California court.

The third day was expected by the prosecution to produce new and convincing evidence against the big film star. Dr. Arthur Beardsley, house physician of the St. Francis hotel, who was first called to treat Miss Rappe when she became hysterical at the notorious Labor Day gin jollification party was slated to give his first testimony in open court of the nature of Miss Rappe's injuries.

The State claims this evidence will strengthen its case against the comedian. However, the defense also has contended that the Beardsley testimony would be favorable to Arbuckle.

Third Week in Jail
Arbuckle Sunday entered his third week in prison facing trial for murder.

Fatty found, the day unusually long and jail attendants say he continued to refuse to read newspapers claiming they "made him sick."

Besides Dr. Beardsley, who is expected to be the star witness in Monday's hearing, Mrs. Maude Bambino Delmont, who swore to the murder warrant against Arbuckle and Miss Alice Blake, Miss Zey Pyerson, members of the fatal party are scheduled to testify.

Meanwhile Arbuckle his big eyes wide and his attorneys continue their silence on the case.

Yanks Regain Full Game Lead By Defeating Indians In Weird Game Yesterday

New York, September 26.—The Yankees regained their full game lead over the Cleveland Indians in the wild American League pennant scramble Sunday, by winning one of the wierdest games of the season, 21 to 7.

Mays pitched for the Yanks and early in the game appeared on the verge of leaving the mound. Caldwell and Mails were in the box for Cleveland and were slammed for 20 hits. Mays was hit safely 13 times by the Indians. A crowd of more than 30,000 witnessed the game. Babe Ruth struck out on one trip to the plate with the bases full.

practice of stopping and insulting motorists throwing mud and stones at passing cars and making themselves generally obnoxious.

Friday night last about 10:30 o'clock as a car driven by Guy Strickland, of Curwensville, and occupied by four Curwensville young men was passing through Hyde a bunch of young men are alleged to have stopped the car and piling into the machine punched one of the occupants in the mouth and stole a robe out of the car during the disturbance. Strickland and his party returned to Clearfield and made information against Walter MacTavish, of Hyde, whom they claimed to have recognized as one of their assailants.

A warrant for MacTavish was issued by Squire John M. Bain and he was arrested. He refused to give the names of his companions in the alleged assault, but at a hearing held Saturday evening at 8 o'clock a settlement of the matter was effected when the Hyde City contingent made apologies for their actions and paid the costs of the proceedings.

The condition complained of, it is said, has long existed at Hyde and Friday night's occurrence will likely be the means of causing official investigation that will result in showing the gang participating in these annoyances and outrages that they cannot pull off such stuff and get away with it without serious trouble to themselves.

BISHOP GETS IN THE GAME AGAIN

"Lefty" Bishop, the Janesville hurler who finished the season with the Clearfield Terriers and then joined Connie Mack's Athletics for the rest of the season, broke into the box score Saturday for the second time this year.

Going in against Chicago in the eighth inning of the second game when the White Sox were on the long end of a 15 to, 0 score, Bishop allowed three hits, three runs and walked one man. He was also credited with a wild pitch. His trip to the plate was fruitless.

WHAT'S IN A NAME ?

Nothing, perhaps and yet, although we run a car, we hope that nobody will ever refer to us as a motorist, for we have had enough of him.

We meet four kinds of humanity on the public highway, if we may classify humanity under the heading of car drivers. First is the man who uses his car in his business. He may run fast or slow, as his time requires and he is so absorbed in his business that he is a very rational man to talk to on the subject of roads, good and bad. Second is the purely pleasure driver who throttles his car down to about twenty miles per hour and gets real enjoyment and health. Third is the tourist who is used to all kinds of roads, is ready for all kinds and while he may cuss a bumper, he is usually a fair-minded man and he does not let a little thing like a rough road bother him. Fourth, and unfortunately there are about four to one of him, is the motorist who sets a heavy shoe on the accelerator and by a quickly earned reputation for recklessness, frightens everybody else off the road.

Rarely do you hear the business man, the pleasure driver or the tourist complain of the roads or the detours, but the motorist sure does make the anvil ring. He forgets that five years ago he would have had to wait for a week after a rainy spell before he could have driven his old boat twenty miles with safety. According to his story, every detour is absolutely unfit for travel and he thinks the state, or somebody else, ought to build a concrete detour for his benefit whenever new roads are built. We heard one of these fellows beefing about the Sewer Pipe Works detour yesterday. He said it was simply awful, but really it isn't any worse than the old brick street and not half so bad as the old Blue Ball hill.

We ought to be so thankful for that Curwensville road, and the new Philipsburg road that we would be willing to travel over a mile of detour to get on it. Most of us, so pay no attention to those motorists.

WHAT A FAIR OUGHT TO BE

Thousands of people who go to an agricultural fair miss the biggest part of the show when they stay away from the purely agricultural exhibits. Sometimes people are disappointed when they are not given the opportunity to spend a lot of money on frivolous pastimes and pleasures; some actually expect to take a whirl at the shell game and be short-changed, and are disappointed if they are not.

It is expected, of course, that a fair association will furnish plenty of entertainment, but a fair that allows these things to be the centre of attraction, fails in its purpose.

This week there will be on display a wonderful exhibition of fruit, produce, grain and live stock from Clearfield county farms. There will also be a wonderful show of the handiwork of women, both from the kitchen and the sewing room. These are the things that count. See them first and so encourage the exhibitors.

People who have visited fairs this year in adjoining counties say that Clearfield is the only real agricultural fair left. Let us keep it that way by lending our interest.

LET EVERYBODY SING

You simply cannot be grouchy if you sing, and it is mighty hard to be grouchy where everybody else is singing, so if you want to feel real good and neighborly, go to the park tomorrow evening and join in the singing. One of the missions of the institutions known as the Rotary Club is to make people happy and every evening during the fair they are going to run a big picture projecting machine at the park, by which popular songs will be thrown on an immense screen and there will be competent song leaders on hand to steer the melody. It will be something new, novel and worth while. Go over tomorrow night.

Our American Legion Band scored several hits on their trip to Pittsburgh. Little do we appreciate what an asset this band is to this city. It is continually in need of support and is deserving of all we can do for it. Keep it in mind, boys, and next time they need a lift, let us line up strong.

CRIMINAL COURT SESSION LARGEST IN HISTORY

Last week's session of Criminal court was the largest and busiest session in the criminal history of the county. In discharging the jury at the conclusion of the Mladin case Saturday Judge Bell after complimenting them on their service during the week, told them they had participated in the biggest criminal week in the history of Clearfield county.

Among other things Judge Bell said that the list for last week included 51 old cases carried over from previous terms and 188 new cases. Of these 35 were disposed of by jury trial; 38 more were disposed of by the entering of pleas; there are 7 fugitives from justice, unarrested, while a total of 9 were disposed of in various ways by the Court and District Attorney Arnold while the regular business of criminal court was being carried on. The remaining 63 cases were continued and will be disposed of between the present and December 1st or continued on the list for trial at the regular December term of criminal court.

The above is a record of which all persons interested have every reason to feel gratified.

WILD CAT MAKES ATTACK ON TWO CAMPER'S FRIDAY

John Zumpstein and his son George, who were mowing the brush and weeds on the right of way of the Bell telephone line across the mountain paralleling the Rockton road, Friday had an encounter with a big wild cat which has infested the region at the top of the mountain on the headwaters of the right hand branch of Montgomery for several years past.

Cat Jumped at Youth

While they were engaged in their work the Zumpsteins occupied the old Harpster camp. On Friday night just after retiring they heard a commotion in the brush near the camp and shortly thereafter the door to the camp rattled and banged as though a man or animal had hurled himself against it in an effort to break in. The elder Zumpstein thinking some one was trying to get in called out to not knock the door down and they would open up. George hopped out of the bunk and turning up the lantern wick opened the door. As he did so the would be intruder was heard to hop upon the roof. Thinking then that a porcupine was the cause of the disturbance George stepped outside the door. As he did so the animal made a spring at him. He threw up the lantern as a means of protection and the light shone full in the face of a big wild cat as he jumped through the air and passed over the crouched form of the man, who dropped down to ward off the hurtling beast. The animal lit in the yard six feet beyond the frightened young man and with a hiss and screech disappeared in the darkness.

It was a narrow escape from serious injury on the part of the young man who is satisfied that he would have been seized by the huge cat only for the fact that his sudden flashing of the lantern in his eyes disconcerted the ferocious animal enough to cause him to miss his leap.

The cat came back about the camp and prowled around every night during the stay of the two men but no further investigation was made in search of porcupines. The tracks of the animal in the soft earth about the camp were twice the size of those of the average wild cat.

Hahn denied any knowledge of or complicity in the moonshining and accounted for his rifle and carpenter tool being in the moonshiners' shanty by saying he was engaged in hunting and had them there to assist him in that work.

Try a Progress want ad.

Ruane alleged that the gang proposed to act like real moonshiners and had agreed that if aided by the officers, Hephurn as Constable, would head the posse and Joe with his '30-30 was to pick off every "revenuer" but the constable as they approached through the grapevine tangle where their headquarters were located. The gun and two boxes of shells was captured with the still.

Verdict of Guilty

Hahn who stands six feet in his socks and straight as an Indian, was the most picturesque figure to appear in criminal court in many a day. His long black hair and beard gave the appearance of the typical moonshiner of the southern mountain country. He was a pretty keen witness and had an ingenious excuse or reason for every embarrassing circumstance shown up against him. The jury failed to be moved by Joe's story and promptly returned a verdict of guilty.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Squire Enos Bloom, of New Millport was the guest of his granddaughter, Mrs. E. S. Erhard Saturday and Sunday. He was one of the Civil war veterans who made it a point to attend the Grampian Fair.

Robert Work, of Indiana was a visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Post, Friday night.

Wilbur Wall, electrician at the Lumber City brick plant, is arranging to move his family to Curwensville and into his dwelling house on South Pine street. This looks very much as though the wicks at Lumber City will suspend operations for the winter.

John W. Sykes, now superintendent of Summit tannery, has moved his furniture and family from Rearing Branch into the Maxwell home on North Thompson street.

Cecil Wall leaves Curwensville today for Philadelphia where he enters the University of Pennsylvania for a business course.

Miss Margaret Hipps and brother Joseph Hipps will leave Curwensville tomorrow for Grove City where both will enter College as students.

A home talent entertainment will be given in the opera house this evening under the direction of Alma Lilian Dunkle, who has had considerable experience along show lines. Over one hundred people will have a part and the show will be of a very interesting character all through.

Chestnut parties are about all the rage now. Hardly a day passes but what a lot of young folks do not visit the mountain regions on the hunt of that lucious nut. The crop is small and have not the full taste of the fruit that attracts the hunters thereof, so much as climbing the mountains, over rock and stream and then partaking of a regular "hunting shanty" lunch.

One of the largest funerals that ever was held in New Millport occurred on Friday when the body of Ivan Sloppy, who lost his life in Aragon woods, France, was interred. Rev. Biddle preached the sermon in the Lutheran church. American Legion women had charge of the funeral. The young man was about 22 years of age and was one of the model young men of that community. He was a son of H. A. Sloppy and was born and raised in New Millport, and for a number of years was connected with the M. E. church.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. James Hand at their bungalow on Ridge avenue on Thursday night, a daughter.

The body of Sergeant Perry Benson, arrived at Jas L. Smith's undertaking rooms Saturday. It will be taken to Lumber City where funeral services will be held on Tuesday and the body interred at Zion cemetery. He was killed in the big drive in December 1918. He was a member of Company L. 23d U. S. Infantry. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Gene Erhard, of this place and a sister residing in Ohio.

The foot ball team went to DuBois Saturday for a game with the mountaineers.

BIG COUNTY FAIR TO OPEN TUESDAY

The Progress man was privileged to scan. Clearfield county farmers have been very greatly improving the quality of their stock the past five or six years and to what extent this is being done will be made apparent to all who visit the stock or cattle exhibits during the week.

The farmers of the county are supporting the Fair, as they never supported it before, and the Fair Association, appreciating that fact, are offering premiums that are really worth while and which are bringing out the very best exhibits possible to obtain.

The newly created or erected automobile display building will also be the mecca for thousands of motorists and those interested in the automobile game.

Need More Room For Exhibits. The big Exposition Building will, as usual, be the busiest place in Clearfield county the coming four days. In fact, the advantage of these annual displays at the fair have become so patent to our local merchants and foreign dealers that this building, which was figured to be ten years ahead of its time when erected four years ago, is already but half large enough, and so incident is the demand for space that already the fair management is considering doubling the present capacity.

The improvements made at the park since last year's fair will certainly surprise all who attend this year. The rest room for women and children is the greatest single thing accomplished this year and will prove to be a real asset to the park. All the improvements made are noticeable and of signal advantage to fair goers and clearly demonstrate that the Park Association is determined to give Clearfield a real worthwhile park or place of amusement.

Every dollar earned at the park last year was put into improvements this year as has been the annual custom since the park was made a public enterprise for Clearfield. This wise policy will continue until everything needed to make a really first class fair grounds is at hand, and with good weather this year even greater improvements will be made next year.

This will be Clearfield county's banner fair. Don't fail to visit it during the week.

ATTRACTIVE ART EXHIBITS AT THE FAIR.

One of the exhibits at the Clearfield County Fair, that bids fair to attract a great deal of attention from lovers of art will be the showing of water color work by Miss Kathryn Campbell of the West Side.

Miss Campbell has been conducting a private showing at her home for some time past and was prevailed on by the fair promoters to make a showing during the present fair. Most of the pictures are water color in which Miss Campbell specializes, but there will be some oils and pastels. The variety of subjects is wide—copies of the Metropolitan masterpieces and many local views.

Graduating from the Pratt Institute at Brooklyn, Miss Campbell studied for some time in the atelier of Mr. Albert Herter, one of New York's foremost artists. Here the finishing touches were added to an already wide experience. After teaching for several years, Miss Campbell returned to this city where she has since made her home with her parents on West Third avenue and conducted classes in water colors and china painting.

FALLS CREEK MAN
COMMITTS SUICIDE

Leonard Edstrom, of Falls Creek, a machinist at the DuBois Iron Works shot and instantly killed himself on Friday last, in the presence of his wife, who stepped into the room just as he pulled the trigger which sent the death dealing bullet through his brain.

Edstrom had been in bad health for some time and on Monday of last week came to Clearfield to consult a local physician about his ailment. He received little encouragement and returned home. He stood in front of a mirror and fired the fatal shot. The suicide occurred at the home of a Mr. and Mrs. Lockwood in DuBois, Edstrom having gone to his home in Falls Creek for the revolver with which he shot himself.

LEGION BAND

The American Legion Band, which participated in the parade at Pittsburgh on Saturday as the closing feature of the American Legion State Convention, arrived home last night at 8 o'clock.

The band made the trip overland by automobile leaving here Friday morning and going by way of Punxsutawney and Indiana. They returned by way of Bedford and Tyrone. The trip was made in ten automobiles contributed by Clearfield's public spirited citizens, as the result of a committee from the Rotary Club.

The boys report fine treatment in Pittsburgh and a delightful trip throughout.

Band Praised
The Sunday Pittsburgh Dispatch carried a picture of five of the prominent officers and an insert showing the American Legion Band of Clearfield. The Pittsburgh Press said: "One of the bands arousing the praise of spectators was the American Legion Band of Clearfield. The thirty-eight members the largest band in line, were under the leadership of Professor Thayer."

The Clearfield band is said by on-lookers to have been the nattiest, snappiest band in the parade and from all along the route to Pittsburgh, newspapers have spoken in the highest praise of their performances.

Many "Treasure Islands."

A large number of islands in various parts of the world have had the reputation of holding buried treasure. Stevenson's "Treasure Island" had no foundation in fact, but is stated to be the real result of his reading of stories by Defoe, Washington Irving and Poe, also Johnson's "Lives of Pirates and Highwaymen," supplemented by his own experience on sailing ships. Stevenson himself said that the germ of the story was the map drawn for the wall of his stepson's playroom.
